PAPILLON - RINGS

This top of the range ring collection is characterised by the most particular craftsmanship and special techniques applied.

Custom cut gem stones are mounted in "castone" set above four pieces of precisely computer aided cut mother of pearl each of which carefully matched for color and texture. The resulting combination merge into a beautiful decorative effect.

These special techniques are difficult to replicate.

The "wings" of the butterflies are mobile, and with a attentive design and workmanship we are able to create an etero effect.

All rings have a little spring inside the shank which makes them very comfortable. The ring can be worn for a long time without discomfort.

The rings which have a sizing spring inside the ring become an ecentric object of art to most definitely exhibit while definitely not being ostentatious. The ring can easily be detached from the crown for further adjustment
The ease with which the rings are worn permit them to be

PAPILLON - RINGS

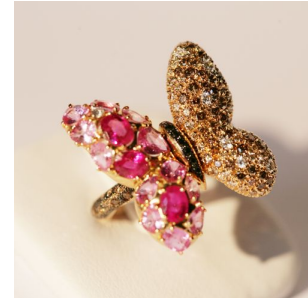

This butterfly collection has a complex fantasy and mixture of settings: while one wing is pavé the other may have a claw setting or a solid gold form.

The strong contrast between each wing contributes to the high artistic style and consequent appreciable value of each piece.

There are four pieces constructed separately and then assembled together resulting in an immediately visible cleanliness.

Within this range there are a fantasy of various combinations of white and brown diamonds, pink sapphires and tavorite set in either white or pink gold.
