ROCK - RINGS

These rings have been specially developed to create a set of three complementary rings.

The stones within this collection are white diamonds, blue and pink sapphires while the larger ones can be tourmalines, rubellites and iolites.

The size of the claws have been carefully studied and designed in relation to the size and depth of each stone. The minimal thickness of the structure results in a remarkable softness and lightness.

Two missions: estetics and engineering- enhance the feminity creating the major effect of volume to render to the eye a high value.

Estetics- three in one: have an estetic flavor and creativity of woman in order of wearing with stones mounted close together have a sense of high value seeing just stones.
